COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1920.

NUMBER 27

OIL NEWS.

Mexico produced 90,000,000 barrels of crude oil in 1919. Last week's reports from the Kentucky fields showed forty-seven wells completed, and with only one dry hole reported.

The J. E. Carnahan Oil Company who have been tied up with a "fishing" job in Russell County, near Crocus, are now drilling. They are down nearly 400 feet, with good prospects for a nice well.

One of the latest oil fields in prospect in this country is located in the southern portion of the state of Mississippi, along the line of the L. & N. Ry., where New Orleans and Chicago capitalists have leased and will develop some 75,000 acres. They expect to go to a depth of 4,000 feet with their test wells.

A dealer in oil leases in Shreveport, La., advertises them for sale at from $5.00 to $50,000.00 per acre, and there are people who will be willing to buy at the latter figure. We are not getting real fancy prices as yet for leases in this section, but over in Allen County a forty acre lease sold recently for $8,000.

The oil business has created such a demand for houses in the city of Bowling Green, Ky., that the business men there are raising a fund, $25,000 being raised in four days, with which to erect living quarters to relieve the congestion. 100 tents are being provided to supply immediate needs. We have not had this kind of a situation to contend with here, but unless signs and predictions fail the time is not far distant when people will be begging for living quarters in Columbia.

The demand for oil drilling machinery is so great that the different manufacturers are unable to make prompt shipments, a period of from sixty to ninety days often elapsing before an order can be filled, and conditions are far from being improved with the advent of good weather.

With the Somerset grade of crude oil selling at $3.75 per barrel, and with the Pennsylvania grade at $6.10 per barrel, it does not take a very smart man long to figure out the immense profits to be realized out of the oil business, even with small wells. In the counties of Adair and Cumberland we find a quality of oil comparing favorably with the Pennsylvania grade, so even if our wells do not prove to be "gushers" we will make good money anyhow.

Statistics furnished through the United States Geological Survey, show that we have reached the lowest level of our oil stocks since 1910, and that supply now on hand is, not sufficient to last more than three and one-half months. When we take into consideration that our production is not nearly keeping pace with domestic demands, and also that our foreign demand is not already large, but is increasing rapidly, it is easily seen whither we are drifting. But, with these facts staring us in the face there are people who pooh, pooh at the oil business, and they will not be convinced.

During the year 1919, 1629 new companies were formed in the United States to engage in the development of oil and gas resources, and the refining and distribution of petroleum, representing a total indicated investment of over three and three-quarter billions dollars. Truly a great industry, and an unprecedented record for one year.

A real oil well was drilled in on Thursday last, in the southern portion of Russell county, near the Adair county, and a shipment from Greensboro, by the feet or more. No reliable estimate of the capacity of the well can be ventured at this time, but the owners are more than pleased with the outlook for a fine production, and in addition to this the quality is of the very finest ever found in the state.

The new well is about 300 yards distant from the old Gabbert well, drilled years ago, and which was a phenomenal producer when there was no demand for crude oil and when the price was so low no attention was paid to its production. The same companies are "spudding in" on well No. 2 this farm, and we look for further reports of an interesting nature from that section at an early date.

Shower of Good Things.

A large number of the members of the Baptist Church visited the home of their pastor, Rev. Leslie J. B. Smith, last Thursday evening, each one loaded with the best to be prepared for table use and many pieces of nice table ware. Rev. Smith was not present, but he was overjoyed upon his return at the magnificent donation tendered by the pastor's admirers, who are devoted to him and he to them. Rev. Smith only recently started to housekeeping, and this homelike and Christian demonstration will certainly make him feel that he is at home, and among good people, who by their acts have shown that he is appreciated.

I want you to know that I appreciate your paper, because that through it I keep in touch with the people and the life of the community that I am proud to call my own.

Leg Broken.

Mr. J. T. Coy, brother of Mr. J. W. Coy and also of Mrs. W. T. McFarland, was struck by an automobile in Louisville where he resides, and his right leg was broken just below the knee. Mr. John Coy and his sister, Mrs. McFarland, went to Louisville to see their brother, and they report that he is doing very well, but it will be some time before he can be out.

Dr. J. N. Page will soon have a new home for his stock of drugs. Mr. Jas. T. Page is having the room in his old hotel building, fronting Buchanan Lyon Co., fitted to receive the Doctor's goods. It is to be repapered, shelves and counter's put in. It will make a cozy store room and the doctor will not be hard to find. In the summer his friends of evenings can sit on his veranda and expectorate on the ground; in the winter they can keep comfortable by his warm stove and narrate

Mr. L. V. Turner, of the Montpelier section, was in Columbia last Thursday. He said that wheat had come out in his locality and was looking prosperous. Winter oats, he said, was looking fine. Mr. C. M. Hindman, of Milltown, was also here and he said wheat was looking well in his section; that he had one field of wheat that was knee high.

Clean-up Week.

The following is a "Clean-up-Week Proclamation" by the State Board of Health:

WHEREAS, the winter's accumulation of decaying filth and refuse in alleys and streets of cities and towns, and especially in and about the back premises of almost all homes, rich and poor, in cities, towns and country districts, constitutes an annually recurring menace to the health, life and comfort of the entire population of Kentucky, which easily and inexpensively can be hauled away and spread upon gardens and farms where it is much needed if all classes of the people will lend a hand in the work, now,

THEREFORE, be it known that the State Board of Health, by virtue of authority vested in it by the law, hereby joins the State Federation of Women's Clubs in designating and proclaiming the period from April 26th to May 2nd as "Clean-Up-Week," this to include liming and whitewashing, for every home in Kentucky; and in this health and life saving work the Board earnestly appeals for the full and active cooperation for the entire week of all city and county officials, day and Sunday school teachers and pupils—their duty to begin with the school house and grounds so as to make them models for the community—preachers and their church members, women's clubs, Red Cross chapters, newspapers, and every family, and especially asking city and town officials and heads of families to furnish teams and the heavy labor necessary in hauling off the refuse which, with this encouragement, the women and children can be relied upon to collect at accessible places; and the Board urges that the press, women's clubs, clergy and teachers give this proclamation such publicity as will make it effective, with the plea that the clean-up be repeated monthly until cold weather sets in next fall, except that it be weekly as to the manure in all stables where horses are kept in order to put an end to the breeding of flies.

Given under our hands and the Seal of the Board this 20th day of April, 1920.

President.

Debate at Lindsey Wilson.

As previously announced, the question of whether United States should adopt universal military training was discussed in form of debate at Lindsey Wilson last Friday night.

A large crowd gathered to listen to these promising young orators and the entire program proved to be one of unusual interest.

The affirmative side of the question was defended by Messrs. Nelson and Traylor, the negative by Messrs. Johnson and Heskamp, four of the most intelligent and popular students of the institution.

The judges found it very difficult to reach a decision so strong was the argument from both sides but finally decided in favor of the negative.

During the evening "The Nonsense

Song" was rendered by Mrs. Turney, Misses Combest, Strange, McFarland, Messrs. Webb, Walters and Dillon. The program was concluded with an instrumental duet by Misses Lockard and McFarland. Both musical numbers were artistically rendered and very much appreciated by the audience.

Meeting at Jamestown.

Rev. Pat Davis' meeting, at Jamestown, is in full blast and a great deal of interest is being manifested by religious people of all denominations, people living five and six miles out of town attending the night services.

Rev. Davis is a very zealous minister one of the most successful revivalists in the Louisville Conference. His earnestness wins souls, and we predict when this meeting closes conversions by the score will be the result. Rev. Davis was born and reared near Milltown, this county and though he has been absent for a number of years, the love for the county of his nativity is akin to the love that a mother has for her child.

Mr. Wm. Looper, of Ontario, Ore., formerly a resident of Russell County, Ky., spent a few hours here last Friday while on his way to visit his daughter, Mrs. Joe McFarland, Jamestown. Mr. Looper has been living in the eastern portion of Oregon near the Idaho line, for the past six years, and he is thoroughly converted to the belief that there is no other country anywhere to compare with it. He told in a very interesting way the wonderful climate, fertility of the soil, and of the bumper fruit and grain crops raised there, being made possible by the irrigation system. He reported 75 bushels of wheat per acre, 125 bushels of oats, 100 bushels and over of corn, and in one instance last year of a certain farmer growing 1400 bushels of potatoes on one acre of ground. A 150 pound pumpkin, a 10 pound turnip, and a 500 pound sturgeon, the latter being taken out of Snake River, were among some of the recent things of interest to be seen there. Unimproved land sells as high as $300.00 to and $1,000.00 per acre.

Mr. Elmo Pearce, an oil man residing at Blackwell, Okla., who has extensive holdings in this section and who has been here for several days past preparatory to developing his acreage, received a wife Saturday night calling him home at once. He left early Sunday and he hopes to be able to return in the very near future when he will inaugurate an aggressive drilling campaign at the earliest possible date. Mr. Pearce has great faith in this section as an oil field, and we wish him unbounded success in the enterprise.

Surveying Started.

Mr. D. M. Phelps and Mr. T. C. Faulkner, road engineers, have commenced surveying the road from here to Gradyville. They started at the top of the hill, at Dr. R. Y. Hindman's residence, and the first day they followed the old road to the residence of S. H. Mitchell. They are moving along nicely and the work will be pushed to the end as rapidly as possible. Messrs. Nat Walker, F. H. Winfrey and make up the remainder of the crew.

Mr. Sam Aaron, a successful farmer of Russell County, was here last Thursday, enroute to Bokchita, Okla. He stopped here a few hours and ordered the News sent to his address. He said he did not know how long he would remain in Oklahoma, but he wanted a paper that would give him comfort while there.

Business will perhaps be a little dull with the merchants until the farmers get their crops in, but they are perfectly willing to wait. When the farmer fails to prosper all other businesses are in the same boat.

Mr. G. R. Reed has received and is now using his new Runabout. It is a good looking.

REV. E. T. WATSON.

The above is a splendid likeness of the minister who has been the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, this place, for the past two years. His resignation was tendered a month ago, and from here he goes to Providence, Ky. Sunday night he delivered his farewell sermon to the congregation, all other denominations being represented. His parting words were touching, and Rev. R. V. Bennett and Eld. Z. T. Williams made short talks, testifying to his work as a minister, and the sorrow his departure will bring to the community.

To Friends of The News.

In order that no one may be misled concerning the execution and prompt delivery of job-work from this office, we make this statement: We have arranged with a first-class job-man to take care of the business that comes to this office and the work will be delivered promptly. Furthermore, there is an artistic printer who lives in Columbia, and he has informed us that he will lend a helping hand should it become necessary. So the people who are friendly to The News need not fear but the business will go uninterruptedly along.

Tobacco.

After a careful investigation into the condition of the tobacco markets of the United States and such foreign countries as information can be secured from and based entirely upon a normal production per acre, for the tobacco acreage now in sight, the Department of Markets submits the following report for the information of tobacco growers and buyers in this state. With the acreage now planned, if a normal yield per acre is produced, the price of all burley, except the highest type of cigarette leaf, should show a marked falling off during the market season of 1920, and even the highest quality leaf may suffer from competition with the Virginia type, if this is produced in any where near the quantity indicated by the acreage planned. Since 1917, there has been a constant trend toward an overproduction of tobacco, but this was not felt because of the sudden economic changes which came about at the close of the war, and the high prices of last year's burley market were a direct result of surplus stocks in this country and a partial failure of the Eastern American crops, together with a reflected advantage from a short crop in India which caused burley tobacco to be exported in far greater quantities than ever before. With these advantages nullified, it seems reasonable to expect burley tobacco to recede in price in the market of 1920. Land suitable for the production of high type burley should, however, produce a good revenue. The situation in dark tobacco is entirely different from that affecting burley, for while burley is chiefly used for smoking, in a country where the consumption is so great as to afford to pay high prices for manufactured tobacco, the Western Kentucky dark tobacco finds a market chiefly in European countries and, more especially, in France and Italy. The present deplorable situation in dark tobacco is a direct result of two factors, the present situation of foreign exchange, and the fact that growers are either unwilling or unable to market their tobacco early in the season.

A Proposition.

I have a set of 26 volumes, sheep binding, of the Encyclopedia Britannica. They cost me $6.00 a volume or $156.00 from the press. I would like to leave them as a nucleus for a Library for the Public school. I will throw in the $100 if the friends and Trustees will make up $56.

Very truly,
B. T. Watson.

Mr. J. S. Darnell, a former mayor of Frankfort, has spent part of the week here looking over our town with the view to asking for a franchise to establish a gas plant here. Should he do so he will invite local capitalists to invest, if they desire to do so, and should he establish the plant he will furnish gas for light and heat and cooking purposes. Mr. Darnell already has successful gas plants at Campbellsville and Leitchfield. He says gas is far cheaper than coal and electricity and more convenient in every way.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Mr. Darnell is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Lanie Staple and Mrs. J. G. Eubank, this place.

I have an entire new stock of mid-summer millinery. Call early.
Miss Julia Eubank.

Mr. E. L. Feese, who has been employed in The News Job Department of this plant for several years, voluntarily quit the office last Tuesday afternoon. He was a willing and faithful worker while here and his presence is missed. His leaving necessitates the employment of another printer, and he will be here in a few days. In the meantime, the work will go uninterruptedly along. The News liking everybody and everybody liking The News.

Miss Lura Hadley, who was twenty-five years and twenty-five days old, died at the home of her parents, in Russell County, the 8th of this month a victim of dypsy. She was a young woman who had many friends and her death brought great sorrow to the remaining members of the family and a large circle of friends. She was ready to go, having professed religion five or six years ago, and lived faithful to the end.

WANTED, a white girl in my home. Come at once. Apply at the home.
Geo. W. Lowe.

Mr. Count Stults and wife will remove from Columbia to Louisville, and will ship their household goods in a few days. Mr. Stults will continue to work for the Union Central Life Insurance Company, but will be engaged altogether in the city. We take pleasure in commending Mr. and Mrs. Stults to the good people of Louisville. Mr. Stults will return to Columbia for one week in each month, to look after his insurance business.

WOODSON LEWIS
GREENSBURG, - - - - KENTUCKY.

New Commandments for Columbia

These "commandments" were read in a community meeting at Holt, Missouri, by Rev. Ward H. Edwards, pastor of the Baptist church. They were printed in the "Holt Rustler" with the remark that they "in no wise repealed or changed any of the original ten. We might add that these new commandments are not copyrighted, and are applicable to any town."

I. Thou shalt not "knock;" boost, rather, with all thy might. If thou dost not like to live in Columbia, move out quickly, I pray thee; if circumstances will not permit this, then at least have the grace to keep thy mouth shut. Verily, there is no better town even unto the ends of the earth. If thy head is sore amputate it or take it to a more congenial climate for treatment. It were better for Columbia to dispense with thy superior wisdom and the honor of thy patronage than thou shouldst be to it like unto a green fly in a jar of preserves, or a tack in a new shoe, or a long curly hair in the butter.

II. Thou shalt get well acquainted with thy neighbor, then thou wilt the more easily keep the commandment of the Lord to "love thy neighbor as thyself." He is possibly better than thou thinkest; more worthy of thy love. Thy confidence in him will be unto him as a strong tower in time of trouble and trial. He needeth thee even as thou needest him. Perhaps if thou knewest him better and he knew thee better, he would not let his chickens run in thy garden and thou wouldst be more careful to patch the holes in thine own chicken fence.

III. When thou buyest thy merchandise, go thou to the stores where thou sellest thy butter and thy eggs, to the men who have given thee credit in the time of thy great need. It is not meet that thou shouldst send thy cash to Montgomery Ward and Sears, Roebuck, for verily their prices are no lower, and when thou hast not money thou are unto them as though thou wert not. The stores in thine own home town help to build up the prosperity of the town, a town without good stores is a dead town.

IV. Thou shalt have the best schools for thy children the laws of thy state permit thee to have. Pay thy school taxes with a glad heart. If thy boys and thy girls were Poland Chinas or Short-horns, thou wouldst not fret thyself because of the expense. The time cometh and now is when thy most precious possession is thy children—more precious than all thy houses and lands, thy gold and thy cattle, or whatsoever else thou hast on all the face of the earth.

V. Thou dost rightly belong to one of the four churches of Columbia; if thou does not, thou are like unto one of the foolish virgins as it is written. Work thou diligently for the welfare of the church, attend all the services thereof, and when the collection basket is passed, seek thou not the pennies in thy pocket. Think not of thy church as a convenient place to be buried from only; think of it as a means of grace to the whole community.

VI. Forget not thou, however, that there are three other churches in Columbia besides thine own. Possibly (here the prophet speaketh not with authority) it would be pleasing to God if there were but one church in a town of this size, but there are four. Let the unity with which they work together be beautiful in the sight of the Lord and all good men. Be not jealous of one another. They are all for the saving of the boys and girls, the men and the women of the community in life and in death.

VII. Thou hast dwelling in thy midst certain strangers who come from beyond thy borders, not related to thee by blood or by giving in marriage, as most are,—thy school teachers and thy preachers. Treat them as thou wouldst thine own people; make them feel at home; open thou thy doors and thy heart to them. They are thy friends and would do the good.

Remember, moreover, that they are of like passions with thyself, tempted in all points like as thou art, not perfect; indeed, just ordinary human beings. So will thy charity be stirred within thee and together ye can do much good for the whole community.

VIII. If thy name or the names of thy friends be not mentioned often in the chronicles of thy newspaper, the News, lay not thou the blame upon the editor thereof. Thou didst likely forget to telephone him of thy downittings and thy uprisings, the goings and comings of thy friends likewise. Be not deceived; the editor is neither omniscient nor omnipresent; he is anxious to get the news and thou oughtest to help him. He is all ears and will gladly listen to thy suggestions. Help thou him to make The News of even greater benefit to the community than it has been heretofore, for nothing can help more towards

BALL CHIEF,
3806, A. S. H. R.

Lawrence Rousseau
2744, A. S. H. R.

$12.50 TO INSURE A LIVING COLT IN BOTH CASES.

DESCRIPTION:---Ball Chief, in color is a rich red chestnut, star and snip, hind pastern white, 10 years old, 16 hands high, has fine head and beautiful long slender tapering ears, has an extremely long thin blady neck, that comes out of his perfectly formed withers in faultless fashion and tapers perfectly to his beautiful head in which are set a pair of large clear expressive eyes. He has a high well set natural tail, which he carries at all times to suite the most fastidious. He has a good short back and a most excellent set of feet and legs. He is nicely broken and gaited, and goes all the gaits in a most attractive manner.

While he has not been extensively shown, yet, he has contended for honors in some of the best congregations of show horses and his many winnings are proof of his powers to meet the requirements in the best show rings. As a breeder he is in the front rank, transmitting to get, form, size, style, and manner of going that are his characteristics and which make, not only show animals, but the general utility horse---the horse that will always live in the fancy of men and perform the service in that manner that will command a fancy price.

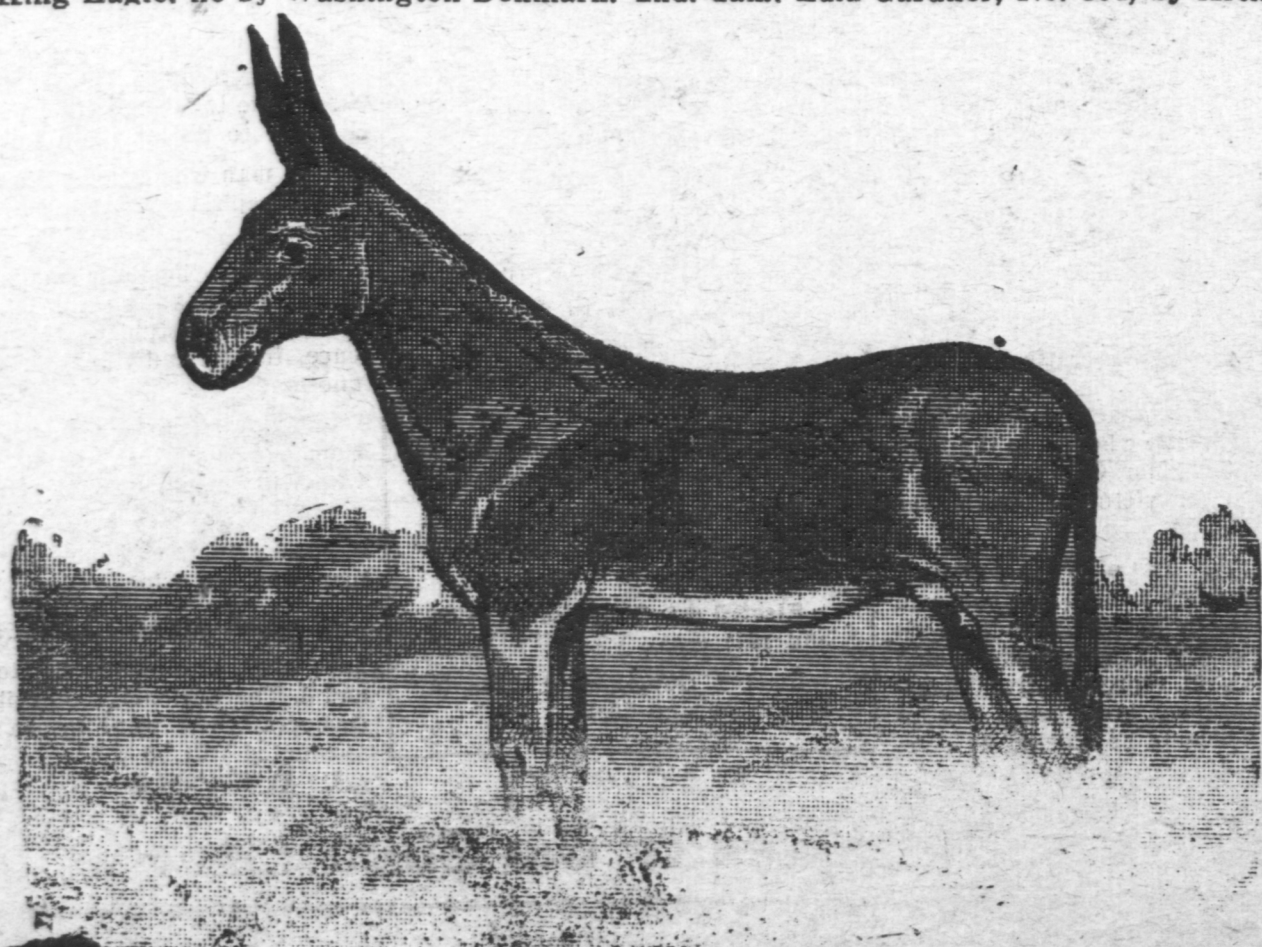

BALL CHIEF has for his sire the champion Montgomery Chief, 1361, by Bourbon Chief, 976, by Harrison Chief, 1606, he by Clark Chief. 1st. dam Louis Abdella, 5000, by Red Spuirrel, 53. 2nd. dam Juella C., by Jewell Denmark, 70, he by Washington Denmark, 64, 3rd. dam Dew Drop, by Artist, 75. 4th. dam by Cabell's Lexington. He has proven himself a breeder of high class and is in every way worthy of your careful consideration.

LAWRENCE ROUSSEAU, NO. 2744, A. S. H. R.

DESCRIPTION AND PEDIGREE:---Lawrence Rousseau is the greatest horse sired by old Red Bird. It is now conceded by all good horse judges that old Red Bird is one of the greatest sires ever produced in Southern Kentucky. It is also generally admitted that Lawrence Rousseau is the finest individual, as well as the best bred colt ever sired by Red Bird. We have four important reasons for believing that Lawrence Rousseau is the greatest Red Bird horse in existence today. Our first reason is his superior individuality. Our second is the money for which he has sold. Our third is his matchless record as a show horse. Our last is the faultless pedigree which proves him to be the best bred horse in Southern Kentucky. Lawrence Rousseau is a chestnut sorrel, 13 years old, 16 hands high, with white hind feet, a blaze and snip. As an individual he stands almost without an equal. He has the size, the color, the form, the style, and the biggest ways of any horse in Kentucky. He was sold by R. F. Paull, of Columbia, when one year old for $350, that being the highest price ever paid for a yearling colt in Adair county. He was sold as a two-year-old for $800, again breaking the record for a colt of his age. He was shown as a yearling and as a two-year-old in six counay fairs, and was never defeated by a stallion, mare or gelding of his age. He made his first show in the sweepstake harness ring for all ages, but who won the premium defeating some of the best stallions sired by Dignity Dare. He was shown last summer in two fancy turnout rings, winning the premium in each case in competition with the finest horses in the country. This proves that as a show horse he stands without a peer for one of his age.

Rousseau, like his famous old sire, Red Bird, has proven himself one of the greatest sires yet known to the people of Kentucky. His colts are the kind that are the most sought by the dealers, as well as by every lover of a good horse. His colts are now reaching the age of maturity and a number of them have been sold at prices ranging from $250 to $400. Good horses were never higher and scarcer---not even enough to supply our local demand. There was never a better time in the history of this country to raise a good horse than now. If you want the best breed to the best. I respectfully invite you to inspect this horse, and his colts in this and adjoining counties before booking your mares.

Lawrence Rousseau, No. 2744, A. S. H. R., sired by Red Bird, No. 1956, grand sire of Joe Brown, 1952, he by Cabell's Lexington, No. 323, he by Gist's Black Hawk. Red Bird's dam by Bailey's Dexter, he by Cabell's Lexington. Lawrence Rousseau's first dam, Elsie Owsley, No. 2496, by Red Squirrel, No. 58, he by Black Squirrel, he by Black Eagle, he by King Eagle, he by Washington Denmark. 2nd. dam, Lula Cardner, No. 864, by Artist, No. 75. 3rd. dam, Bertie, by Grey Lexington, he by Steel Dust. 4th. dam by Stump, the dealer.

I have two good black Jacks, 7 and 8 years old, 15 1-2 to 16 hands high.

GOV. WOOD, fee $8.00.

BRADY, fee $8.00.

In all the above cases LIVING COLTS INSURED.

The above described stock will make the season of 1920 at my farm, known as the Jordan Page farm, one and a half miles East of Cane Valley, Ky.

I am prepared to take care of mares sent to me from a distance, at actual cost of feed. In all cases money is due and must be paid when mares are bred to other stock, traded from neighborhood without my consent. All stock will receive our personal attention, and due care will be taken to prevent accidents or escapes, but I will not be responsible if they occur.

Louisville won its annexation case, taking in New Albany and Jeffersonville, which increases its population 40,000. The case will be appealed.

The editor of this paper had the pleasure of meeting Jas. M. Cox, Governor of Ohio, at the Seelbach, Louisville, last Saturday. As is known he is a Democratic aspirant for the Presidency. He is a pleasing conversationalist, and a number of gentlemen who called at his apartments with us, were delighted with him. At night he addressed a large crowd.

The influence which the disloyal elements of our population will have in the Republican National Convention at Chicago is a fact that should not escape notice from patriotic citizens. A few weeks ago in the primaries in the state of Wisconsin there was a sharp contest within the Republican Party between the LaFollette and the anti-LaFollette factions of that party. Both sides had a full list of delegates as candidates and the result was an overwhelming victory for the LaFollette supporters. This means that the entire state delegation of Wisconsin to the Republican National Convention will be under the control of Senator LaFollette and will be held as a pawn in his hands for such use as he may see fit to make of it. Last week in the primaries in Illinois while Governor Lowden carried the state overwhelmingly, Mayor Thompson won out in the fight for control of the fifteen delegates and will be voted by him at the Republican National Convention. The control of approximately fifty delegates by LaFollette, the pro-German slacker of the United States Senate, and Mayor Thompson, the chief executive of the "sixth German city in the world," is a matter whose importance is not to be underestimated. Fifty delegates may turn the tide for some candidate at Chicago and it may easily develop that the nominee of that Convention may owe his nomination to these two near traitors.

The matter that most vitally concerns the Democratic voters of Kentucky this year is the election of the full Democratic ticket in this state. Upon the election of the Democratic electoral ticket in Kentucky may depend the choice of a president for this country for the next four years. Upon the election of a Democratic senator in this state may depend the political complexion of the United States senate for two to six years. The loss of one or two congressmen in Kentucky might determine the political make-up of the next house of representatives. The loss of the state by 40,000 to the Democrats last fall need not dismay us if a reunited party goes into the battle this year. The rank and file of Kentucky Democrats will have little patience with any factional fighting in the coming state convention over the election of state committees or expressions of presidential preference. The great and single thought that should be in the minds of all delegates is harmonious action and a determination to allow the San Francisco convention the widest latitude in its consideration of the best nomination to be made. Many important developments may come before the 4th of May when the Kentucky convention will meet and the 28th of June when the great gatherings at San Francisco will take place. Kentucky Democrats will, after San Francisco, have a great fight to make and they should have no unnecessary handicaps.

LODGES LEADERSHIP.

Probably in later years Senator Lodge will be as proud of his leadership in the Senate as the country now is proud of him—and no prouder. His chief claim to distinction is that he led the fight that, for the time being, defeated ratification of the peace treaty and deferred hope for a lasting peace. It must be comforting to the distinguished Senator that he was so devotedly aided in his work by another distinguished Senator, Mr. Newberry of Michigan, who now stands convicted of criminal conspiracy, with a prison sentence hanging over him. To know that it was the vote of a Senator so branded which enabled him to pack the Foreign Relations Committee and defeat the great peace purpose of the President and the great body of the American people is doubtless sweet unction to the distinguished New England Senator's soul!

PROSPERITY.

There was never a time when prosperity was so abundant in the United States as it is today, and it is shared by every class. The farmer is getting double and treble for his products what they formerly brought, and he can sell his place at twice the amount it cost him if he owned it three years. The mortgage on it has been lifted. He is, in many instances, a gentleman of leisure, sending his sons and daughters to College and riding in fine automobiles. The merchant sees his business grow by leaps and bounds. It is no longer a question of getting customers, but of supplying the wants of those who enter his establishment. The country is so full of money that the credit system, which plagued the small merchant and sent many of them to failure, is now almost discarded. The banker finds his deposits doubled and trebled and quadrupled; the sound financial condition of the country, and prosperity among all classes makes his loans safer than they ever were, and he is able to pay increased dividends to his stockholders as a return on their investment. The laboring man is enjoying a degree of prosperity that he never dreamed would come to him. No longer does "the crown of thorns" press down upon his brow. His wages have increased enormously, and he is able for the first time to enjoy the luxuries of life, and start a bank account that grows apace. The United States is truly a "land flowing with milk and honey." Our people are rolling in wealth. The preachers of discontent who want to get back to the "good old times" will not be satisfied with the millennium. These are the best times that America ever had. We have under a Democratic Administration a greater degree of prosperity, more widely distributed, than the most sanguine Republican campaign orator ever predicted for an Administration of his party. The prophets of evil, who predicted disaster under a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress, have been confused and confounded. Instead of hard times we have plenty; prosperity instead of panics, and it has all come under Woodrow Wilson, a Democratic President, and under laws enacted by a Democratic Congress at Washington.

28-POUND GAIN

Remarkable and Convincing Story of Trutona's Restorative Powers Told By Mr. Lee

Louisville, Ky., Apr. 27.—"I'll swear by Trutona and I never expect to be without it again. 'And why shouldn't I? After I had spent hundreds of dollars for other medicines, one bottle of Trutona did me as much good as all the rest put together. It placed my system in perfect condition and I've gained twenty eight pounds in the bargain." In his own words, the foregoing is what Trutona, the perfect Tonic has done for Harry Lee, an employe of the Seelbach hotel, who lives at 1661 Gallagher Street, Louisville.

"Stomach trouble together with the after-effects of an attack of pneumonia caused a general breakdown in my health," he continued. "I became constipated and suffered headaches. My appetite was very poor, it seemed I never wanted anything but a cup of coffee.

"Well, Sir, I weighed only 130 pounds when I began using Trutona but today I tip the scales at 158—a gain of 28 pounds. And I feel just like a new man, too. My constipation has been relieved. I haven't had a headache for weeks and my former nervousness is a thing of the past. And my appetite—well, I eat more than my income will stand. I'm full of life now, enjoy my work and I know I'm in perfect physical condition. My father-in-law and my thirteen-year-old son also took Trutona and it helped them greatly. My boy's strong and healthy and gaining weight now."

Carry The Country With Cox

Cox Can Win

Kentucky Democrats, you are asked to send delegates to the San Francisco Convention pledged to nominate a man who can win.

That man is James M. Cox, Governor of Ohio.

Here is a candidate whose record as a vote-getter is known.

Three times he has been elected Governor of the normally Republican State of Ohio.

Twice he was elected to Congress by big majorities over strong opposition.

He has been a winner in business, too, by his own merit and courage.

There is nothing in his record that should alienate a single Democratic vote.

There is much in his record that will command thousands of Independent and Republican votes.

His popularity was a big factor in putting the pivotal State of Ohio in the Democratic column in 1916.

Ohio's electoral votes are needed this year; he can swing them.

What other Democratic candidate can?

The Cox Movement in Kentucky is backed by citizens who see in the nomination of Governor Cox Democracy's best chance for victory in State and Nation.

It is simply an effort to put Kentucky Democracy behind the one man who can win in November and, to insure success, all factionalism should be avoided and representative Democrats of character, intelligence and independence should be elected as delegates.

GOV. JAMES M. COX OF OHIO

Born on a farm March 31, 1870.

Educated in country school and high school.

Worked as farmer boy, newsboy, printer's devil and reporter.

Owens and publishes Dayton Daily News and Springfield Daily News.

Elected to Congress in 1909 and 1911.

Elected Governor of Ohio in 1912, 1916 and 1918.

Cox Is Worthy

Kentucky Democrats, you are asked to send delegates to the Democratic National Convention instructed to nominate a man who is worthy to sit in the White House.

You are asked to use your influence for the nomination of a self-made man, one who personifies the best traditions of red-blooded Americanism.

—A man, who, born on a farm, without favoring conditions, has risen from newsboy and printer's "devil" to reporter, from reporter to editor and publisher of two great papers.

—A man, whose neighbors, who know him best, have called him three times to the highest office in their State.

—A man whom no interests have been able to swerve from what he considered to be his plain duty.

—A man who adjusts differences between capital and labor without resort to troops.

—A keen business man who says "profiteering is the result of conditions carrying opportunity, if not preference, to one individual or class over another."

—A normal American, neither reactionary nor radical, the kind of man who will restore normal conditions in a normal, American way.

Such a man is James M. Cox, the man who can win.

COX HEADQUARTERS

have been established in Rooms 1, 2 and 3, The Seelbach, Louisville, where Democrats who want to see a winner nominated will be welcome. Come in, write or telephone.

Send Cox Delegates to the State Convention

Democrats, if you want a winner as your Presidential candidate, if you want to see Democracy triumphant, attend the mass conventions in your county seats at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, May 1st, for delegates who will insist on a Cox delegation to the San Francisco Convention.

Women, who will cast their votes in November, are entitled to representation in conventions.

Fifty Millions Of Profits From War Bonds.

By its purchases of war bonds the Government has already acquired a net profit of more than $50,000,000, according to the statistics.

The Treasury denies that it is guilty of such immorality as conniving at the policy of the Federal Reserve Board, which drives down the price of war bonds and then going into the market and purchasing these bonds at a low price. Yet two of the principal officers of the Treasury sit in the Federal Reserve Board.

The fact is that the Government is profiting, and profiting handsomely, from the price of bonds.

That is immoral, painfully so. The authority was given the Treasury to buy bonds in the open market in order to sustain that market. But, as has been suggested in the Senate, it is a grave question if the Treasury should be permitted to buy such bonds below par. Would it not better sustain the market if it went into it with a proposition to retrieve bonds at par? Were it known, in fact, that the Government would buy back each month a specified amount of war bonds at par, would not effect be to raise up the whole market? We think so.

There may be some details of administration which would offer difficulties, but the expedient in principle is a feature of recent French issues.

There is no sophistry that can get away from the very obvious fact that purchase by the Government of its own securities at a discount is immoral. Immoral is a mild characterization, indeed, if while one instrumentality of the Government is purchasing the bonds another instrumentality of the Government arbitrarily and in defiance of the nation's pledges is driving down the price.—Manufacturers Record.

Will write a few lines to my old home paper as it seems natural for me to write to the Adair County Co News.

I arrived here the 23rd. and am well satisfied. I am at work at the Milford Canning Co. at $4.00 per day, the work is not hard.

If anyone will come here and buy chewing and smoking tobacco they would think that there would be good money in raising tobacco as the farmers were selling tobacco when I left down there at $5.00 per hundred and when I reached here they would charged you five cents a chew and ten cents a smoke and to just let you smell of the tobacco it is two and one half cents.

This is a nice little town and a beautiful country.

As this is my first letter from this part will close by saying if this escapes the waste basket will write again.

Thinking about selling your Liberty Bond? Read this first: $200 of Liberty Bonds of the Fourth Loan will be worth nearly $500 in 1933 if you reinvest your interest coupons in War Savings Stamps, which pay 4 per cent compound quarterly.

Chicken and Fowl Law.

The last legislature passed two bills of interest to those who raise chickens, turkeys, &c. The first bill levies a tax upon all chickens giving each family 25 without taxation.

The second bill requires all owners of fowls of all kinds to take care of them not allowing them to trespass upon their neighbors.

That is what the good old woman in the mountains meant when she said, "I see you are wanting to free 'Old Ring' and tie up 'Old Speck'."

As the law now stands "Old Ring" and "Old Speck" both must be tied up.

Immediate dissolution of the alleged "Big Four" tobacco trust and wholesale curtailment of Kentucky's next tobacco crop were urged at the meeting of the Tobacco Growers and Dealers' Protective Association in Louisville, City Hall last Thursday.

Fishing in Hawaii.

The boat which the Hawaiians use for fishing and porpoise hunting is very long and narrow, pointed, and curved upwards at the bow end, and capable of length to the boat's keel, so that at a distance you might think you saw two boats fixed parallel to each other. The outrigger forms a stay to the boat on the side wherever it is fixed, and the other side is equally supported because only a very great strain could possibly weigh up such contrivance.

The paddling is done from the stern, and fishing begins as soon the little vessel is clear of the reefs; and in a very few hours she has as many fish as she can hold. The catch is taken ashore alive in pots, and skin buckets, and disposed of at the public market, many of the islanders consuming it not only uncooked, but still living.—New England Fisheries.

The Isle of Dogs.

The Isle of Dogs, facing Greenwich hospital, as flat a bit of land as one could wish to see, is to be made to blossom again, if not as the rose, at any rate as it lies within the power of a garden city to make it. In the days when Greenwich was the royal residence, the kings of England feared across to the north shore to visit their farms, or, as with Henry VIII, the kennels in which his hounds were kept. Since then the face of the land had been covered with wharves and warehouses, while the West India docks have served it from Poplar and Mainland. The new garden city is to cover nine acres by the old Mill-wall football ground. The houses and flats will have gardens of their own, the roads are to be lined with trees, and the number of modern appliances is to make the Isle of Dogs' new residential quarter the envy of the whole of the east end. On the west of the isle is Limehouse reach, with its flavor of Rogue Riderhood and the unidentifiable Mill Pond bank. Chink's basin and the Old Green Copper rope-walk.

Baker and John Avroe Steele. From remarks in the narratives of the latter historian I had no trouble in identifying him. He was the Gamaliel at whose feet the writer was want to resort for legal advice while trying to dispense justice to the "Hill Billies" of Southeastern Adair, and it was on occasional trip into the hills of that region to try the would be feudists that "John Avroe" was want to touch verbally on some of his sketches.

Moreover, both historians recorded happenings that I heard related when I was a barefooted boy. My parents were living on the old homestead only a few steps east of the old Union church and in the direct path of the tornado that destroyed that structure in 1859. Yet not a shingle was disturbed on the residence.

I have also heard my mother tell (she is now in her 81st year) how her grandmother was almost paralyzed with fear at the approach of a neighbor whom she mistook for one of the Harpes. This great grandmother by the way was a sister of Robert Hindman the first of the name in Adair Co.

These ancestors named Watt came in with the colony that settled on Caney fork but homesteaded on the west side of Russell and just east of the present P. O. Fry, Green Co., on a part of which the writer was born.

As related by Judge Baker my paternal ancestors came in with Col. Casey and homesteaded just north of where the old brick church stood between Butlers Fork and Big Creek. There are three of the Dudley pioneers, the grandfather of the late cousin Ann Eubank, the writer's great grandfather and uncle "Billie" who left no heirs.

I will give one anecdote of the hardy pioneer as related to the writer: Uncle "Billie" was want to go out in the "cane brakes" once a week to "salt" his cattle and was always accompanied by his big English Cur dog. On one trip the dog "treed" a full grown panther. Cutting some good cudgels uncle Billie proceeded to pelt Mr. panther from his perch in the tree and he and the dog dispatched him and with no other weapon than a stout club. These and many other experiences of the pioneers of that region were indelibly recorded on my mind in childhood by tongues mostly long since stilled in death.

Just at this time this city is in the midst of a bitter fight between organized labor and business in interests for the "open or closed shop." Both are strong and its hard to tell how it will end.

"O H, LET'S

DON'T"

People With Thin, Pale Blood
 Are Listless and Want to do Little

MORE RED BLOOD CELLS NEEDED

Take Pepto-Mangan, Famous
 Tonic, and say "Let's Go," instead of "Let's Don't"

When normally healthy, ambitious, people begin to lack energy and tire easily—when they are quickly discouraged and low in vitality, it usually means their blood has grown weak.

Such people are called anemic, or "run-down." Build up the blood and you build up the health and spirits. Pepto-Mangan is a pleasant-tasting red blood builder and it contains exactly the elements which poor, pale blood needs to become rich, red blood.

Red blood means rosy cheeks, bright eyes, a clear brain, a firm step. Pepto-Mangan has placed thousands of people who needed building up in the full-blooded, energetic, vigorous class. It changes the "let's don't" attitude to a "let's go" attitude. Recommended by physicians for thirty years and sold all over the world.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both contain the same medicinal ingredients.

Buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.

Editor News:—

The label tells me that I am in areas so herewith am sending something to put me on the right side of the ledger.

Being here in the heart of the greatest oil field in the world near twelve years I have gathered a pretty good idea of all the angles of the game. I naturally take a keen interest in all your "Oil News." I don't know that I could do better than repeat what I said in my last letter. If you want to find oil get big tools and old hands at the game to do the work.

Just last week a Co., in this city got a well only a short distance away that flowed 5000 barrels an hour. From my window here in the city I can see a well drilling not over 300 yards away.
